HURRICANE IS NOW HEADED UP ATLANTIC COAST

EVACUATION OF EVERGLADES IS BEING SPEEDED

Weather Bureau Says Miami Will Escape Brunt Of Storm

Miami, Fla., Sept. 28.—(P)—Red Cross relief trains speeded evacuation from the treacherous everglades sections tonight but the fierce tropical hurricane which had raged toward Miami for 17 hours suddenly veered off and headed up the Atlantic coast, 40 miles off Florida's east coast.

The weather bureau said that Miami and cities along the lower Florida east coast, believed earlier to be in the direct path of the storm, would apparently escape the brunt of the hurricane which had taken 27 lives as it ripped across Cuba and Jamaica.

Hurricane warnings all along the Florida coast were ordered taken down and storm warnings hoisted in their places to warn ships in the path of the twister.

Meanwhile disaster workers at Belle Glade, Fla., notified national Red Cross headquarters that 80 per cent of automobile-owning residents of the Lake Okechobee area had already fled.

Refugee trains authorized by the Red Cross arranged to take 5,000 persons to Sebring. The Red Cross there prepared to meet their food, clothing and medical needs.

Nelson Howard, Red Cross disaster worker, reported he had left for Sebring and would meet the trains as they arrive, with a physician ready to board each. All refugees will be temporarily sheltered in passenger coaches and box cars.

The Miami weather station in a bulletin at 7:17 p. m. Eastern Standard Time said:

"Center of storm now moving north-eastward and will pass east of Miami tomorrow, but will not reach hurricane force here."

The storm was reported to be continuing north for West Palm Beach to Charleston, S. C.

The Poway Rocks light house reported a northeast 75 mile wind at 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, with a barometer reading of 29.30.

At the time of the weather bulletin here the wind was blowing 30 miles an hour and the barometer read 29.42.

HORNER WORKING ON HIS SPECIAL SESSION CALL

Assembly May Convene Shortly After October 15

By Curtis R. Hay
Associated Press Staff Writer, Springfield, Ill., Sept. 28.—(P)—Governor Horner returned from Chicago today and said he would make every effort next week to issue a call for a special session of the legislature.

Forced to delay his selection of subjects to be included in the call by speaking engagements the last fortnight, the governor gave his secretary specific instructions that other than an engagement at Peoria tomorrow he would not accept invitations for the next week, in order that he could get out the call.

Because of clerical work which will be necessary between the call and the day the assembly convenes, it was considered unlikely the session will begin before October 15.

Governor Horner said there were more than 50 subjects suggested to him for inclusion in the call, but that he expected to pare the number to a dozen or less. He reiterated that he would, insofar as possible, avoid inclusion of controversial subjects.

Requests for inclusion of validation acts of municipalities and like individual measures, he indicated would not be included.

He began the work of weeding out the subjects immediately upon his return, but said the job would require several days. What subjects had been requested were not disclosed, but it was said by informed quarters that in addition to an enabling social security act, a primary cause for the call, requests had been received that the governor ask amendment of the traffic code, sales tax revision, utility tax act amendments and legislation on child labor.

Cigarette Butt Murder Revived By Officials

Seek Escaped Convict From Joliet Penitentiary For Questioning

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(P)—The cigarette butt murder of Kenneth A. Morrison, assistant park district comptroller who was found slain in his auto the night of Aug. 13 with a burned cigarette hanging from his lips, was revived today with the announcement by police they were seeking an escaped convict from Joliet penitentiary for questioning.

Jack Ellis, 24, who escaped from the penitentiary June 21, has been sought more than a month in connection with the murder, Sgt. Fred O'Neill of the Hudson avenue police said today.

His disclosure came after the Chicago Daily News had printed a copyrighted story today asserting that Ellis had been named by Lloyd Braithwaite, 28, a one-armed World War veteran now serving one to ten years in Joliet for embezzlement.

Braithwaite, in an interview at the prison today vehemently denied that he even knew of Ellis when told he had been charged with "financing" the escaped convict in a charge that contained hints of political scandal in the park board. His contentions were borne out by prison records which disclosed Braithwaite had not received official visitors since his incarceration, May 16.

NEW DIET WILL BE ELECTED BY MEMEL TODAY

Officials Expect No Disturbances At Polls

By Elmer W. Peterson
Associated Press Foreign Staff, Memel, Sept. 28.—(P)—Little Memel was a potential European volcano tonight as it appeared to elect a new diet under the jealous eyes of Nazi Germany and Lithuania. The election is tomorrow.

Outwardly the territory was calm and only minor disturbances marred the campaign. The actual voting was expected to pass off quietly, officials said, and if real trouble occurs it will be when the results are announced several days hence.

On the one side of the 68,000 voters, a majority of them German, was an openly displeased Germany and on the other a stubbornly insistent Lithuania. Berlin's leaders, including Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, have charged Lithuania with election violations.

The pro-German party now has 25 of the 28 seats in the Landtag (diet or provincial assembly). Lithuania is fighting to have this overwhelming majority decreased, while Germany, remembering its victory in the Saar, wants to enhance its claims to Memel, taken from her by the World War.

(Memel's port is vital to Lithuania—it has no other suitable outlet to the sea.)

The election will provide a rigid test of the guaranteed democracy of Memel, under Lithuanian sovereignty but with autonomous rights.

An example of the sensitiveness of both Germans and Lithuanians, was the protest by the German election committee of the alleged arrest of 15-year-old butcher boy for distributing Lithuanian election leaflets.

Roosevelt Discusses His Farm Aid Program Before Farmers at Fremont, Neb.

By Francis M. Stephenson.
Associated Press Staff Writer, Fremont, Neb., Sept. 28.—(P)—President Roosevelt today hoisted the new deal agricultural program to challengers in apparently unfurling his first issue in the 1936 reelection campaign.

In the heart of the nation's farm lands before farmers of the important northwest states, Mr. Roosevelt asserted a $5,500,000,000 increase in agriculture income over the 1932 level, and emphasized the agricultural adjustment act as a prime aid.

He said the effort of the AAA to provide cooperation among farmers and crop control "is the true function of government under our constitution."

"The government's part in this program," he said, "is merely to supply the unifying element that the farmers themselves, in their past efforts, found so essential to success. It is Democracy in the good American sense of the word."

He attributed the agricultural readjustment to "many factors." The monetary policy was one. "The drought was another. Increased demand for products caused by the economic revival was another, and the operations of our agricultural adjustment administration was still another."

Speaking from the rear platform of his special train, Mr. Roosevelt looked into the faces of a huge throng extending over the station grounds and beyond the town streets.

In background of this fair country were the vast farm fields, visible for miles.

Opening his speech, the president expressed delight at coming to the home state of "one of a half dozen greatest Americans—Senator George W. Norris."

Governor Cochrane and Senator Burke of Nebraska stood beside the chief executive. Mr. Roosevelt was with him Dan Stephens, former representative, introduced the president.

"It is surprising," he asked, "in the light of this improved income, that the farm implement factories in Illinois and New York and the automobile factories of Michigan, and the steel mills of Pennsylvania are springing into activity."

"Now, with export surpluses no longer pressing down on the farmer's welfare, and with fairer prices, farmers really have a chance for the first time in this generation to profit from improved methods."

CENSUS SHOWS HUGE DROP IN FARM VALUES

31 Per Cent Reduction Shown By Federal Report

By W. B. Ragsdale
Associated Press Staff Writer, Washington, Sept. 28.—(P)—A 31 per cent drop in the value of America's farms since 1930, despite that they have grown both in number and acreage, was disclosed today by the agricultural census.

The sales of figures gathered in the count of farms already had shown that there were half a million more farms than in 1930 and 68,400,000 more acres in cultivation.

The statistics revealed, however, that the value of the smaller farm acreage in 1930 was $14,995,495,980 greater in 1930 than the increased amount was in 1935.

Officials said this in some degree explained the farm mortgage disputes that had arisen in sections of the middle west. In some cases, they said, reports to the census bureau showed that farmers were paying on mortgages that were larger than the total present value of their land.

In fifteen states, the average decrease in value in 1935 was above thirty per cent. In two of these—Iowa and South Dakota—it was above 40 per cent. Iowa had 41.7 per cent, South Dakota, 46.1.

The nation's bread basket section was hit hardest. Eight of the big middle western producing states showed decreases of more than thirty per cent.

The six other middle western states were Illinois, 33.8; Kansas, 35.2; Minnesota, 34.9; Missouri, 38.7; Nebraska, 37.3; Oklahoma, 36.9.

Agricultural experts said the value of farm lands fluctuated according to farm income and that both were low on the upgrade, after reaching bottom in 1932. They recited farm income statistics for the 1930-34 period to show that the spread between income was about the same as between land values in the first and last years.

The agricultural share of the national income for those years was fixed at: 1930, $6,320,000,000; 1931, $4,659,000,000; 1932, $3,562,000,000; 1933, $4,557,000,000; 1934, $5,287,000,000.

Britain's 400,000,000 of warcraft are still in the Mediterranean but the cabinet announced the first step has already been taken by Italy to negotiate with Britain "accords that harmonize with the legitimate interest of England in East Africa."

Mussolini's efforts to localize the expected conflict were plainly stated. The cabinet assured that the peaceful Italy would not abandon it "until the day when the league itself assumes full responsibility for 'measures' that strike at Italy."

Anna Sage Put John Dillinger On "Spot," Claim Attorney For "Woman In Red" Tells Judge She Was "G" Men's Sole Aid

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(P)—Mrs. Anna Sage, the storied "woman in red" who claimed the sole credit today for putting John Dillinger on the "spot."

Her attorney asserted in federal court she alone had furnished the "G" men with information that enabled them to set a trap for the desperado.

They made the first authoritative disclosure of the role played by Mrs. Sage in the ace outlaw's death in procuring a writ of habeas corpus which thwarted the government's plans to deport her.

"She was solely responsible for the information leading to the killing of Dillinger," said Attorney Thomas J. Johnson.

He told Judge John P. Barnes that in exchange for her tip she had been assured the department of justice would cancel the deportation proceedings. He declared the promise was made by Melvin Purvis, who then was head of the division of investigation office in Chicago, and Samuel P. Cowley, widely known federal agent.

Judge Barnes issued the writ over the objections of Assistant U. S. District Attorney Austin Hall and Fred Schlotfeldt, district supervisor of immigration. Pending a hearing on the writ, returnable Oct. 3, he set her bond at $1,000.

ITALY'S DELEGATION TO LEAGUE WILL LEAVE FOR HOME; ACTION SURPRISE

IL DUCE MAKES OVERTURES TO GREAT BRITAIN

Warns Assembly Of League To Keep Hands Off

By John Evans
Associated Press Foreign Staff, Rome, Sept. 28.—(P)—Premier Mussolini stretched a friendly hand toward Great Britain today and announced he had already offered to negotiate accords to quiet her fears over the African problem.

At the same time, he disclosed Italian troop movements to Africa are "being accelerated," and warned the assembly of the League of Nations to keep its hands off. (The council is now negotiating for a settlement.)

Speaking through a communique of the fifth and closing September cabinet session, IL Duce sought to localize the apparently imminent Ethiopian conflict by an agreement with Britain. The cabinet made four points:

1. Italy offers to make accords with Great Britain.

2. Italy warns the league assembly not to interfere.

3. Italy spurns Emperor Haile Selassie's proposed neutral zone and his suggested withdrawal of troops from his frontiers. The communique called the Ethiopian offer one for "a strategic purpose, not a pacific one."

4. War preparations are being speeded.

Storm clouds of a possible war with Great Britain were further dispelled by the government's formal and friendly development of the peaceful assurances recently exchanged by Sir Eric Drummond, London's ambassador here, and Fulvio Spivich, under-secretary for state.

Britain's 400,000,000 of warcraft are still in the Mediterranean but the cabinet announced the first step has already been taken by Italy to negotiate with Britain "accords that harmonize with the legitimate interest of England in East Africa."

Mussolini's efforts to localize the expected conflict were plainly stated. The cabinet assured that the peaceful Italy would not abandon it "until the day when the league itself assumes full responsibility for 'measures' that strike at Italy."

Children Rescued From Sea Pirates After Gun Battle

Hangchow, Sept. 28.—(P)—A strange battle at sea between aroused peasants, aided by water police, and pirates, resulted in the rescue today of ten of 31 children who had been kidnapped.

The fight took place off Peihsiang, the village which the Buccaneers raided yesterday, was taking off every child in school.

Not only did the peasants and police save ten children, but they killed four of the Pirates and captured three. One of the three Pirate craft was sunk but the other two, carrying 20 children, fled. One child was killed.

After the battle, the villagers renewed their supplies and ammunition in preparation for another search for the junks.

NEW CODES FOR COAL INDUSTRY WILL BE SET UP

Washington, Sept. 28.—(P)—The soft coal industry soon will undertake the gigantic task of setting up a new price structure.

The first move in this direction came today with the election of Charles F. Hosford, Jr., of Pittsburgh as chairman of the new bituminous coal commission.

This five-man board created by the Guffey coal stabilization act is to supervise the marketing provisions of that measure setting up a "Little NRA" for the bituminous industry.

Hosford, in a formal statement, said the commission would undertake formulation of the code of fair competition the act provides for, beginning work next week on the rules for election of the district boards to fix coal prices.

Prices must be approved by the commission before they are effective. They are to be correlated between districts.

"The commission fully sympathizes with the industry's desire that it organize as soon as possible," Hosford told operators and miners at the commission's first formal meeting, "and invites your fullest co-operation in solving your problem."

The United Mine Workers announced today that the hazard production district in Kentucky had accepted the Appalachian agreement to end the strike Tuesday.

FUTURE PLANS OF ITALIANS KEPT SECRET

Assembly Is Ready To Meet At Moment's Notice

By Joseph E. Sharkey.
Associated Press Foreign Staff, Geneva, Sept. 28.—(P)—Italy's delegation to the League of Nations started Geneva tonight by either leaving, or preparing to leave, for Rome.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi departed, accompanied by Guido Rocco of the foreign office. Headquarters of the delegation announced the others would leave tonight or tomorrow.

If and when the delegation will return was not clear. The action created great surprise, especially in view of the communique of the Italian cabinet today saying the delegation would remain here for a period.

Aloisi yesterday had vigorously protested the action of the steering committee in recommending that the assembly adjourn, subject to immediate call, rather than end its session. This action was carried out today.

The assembly left for home, prepared to reassemble at an instant's notice, while the council of the league, resolved into a committee of 13, labored on in its work of making a report.

Recommendations will be drafted by the council next week. It reviewed the Italo-Ethiopian conflict today, making a basis for its work.

In some circle it was pointed that with the assembly in adjournment and the council in committee there was no reason why the Italians should not go home. Italy is not on the council committee.

Before granting the request of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia for a neutral commission of observers, the council decided to get Italy's views upon the subject.

Officials explained it would be difficult, possibly dangerous, for a league group to go to the Ethiopian frontiers unless assurances were obtained from both Italy and Ethiopia that its work would be aided and the membership protected.

Before the assembly ended its brief meeting Eduard Benes, president, warned: "Grave events may still occur in a conflict which the council has not yet been able to settle."

Visions at Concord

When the "embattled farmers stood by the rude bridge that arched the flood" and "fired the shot heard round the world," did they have visions of agricultural adjustment? It is a far cry from the sturdy independence of those farmers who left their plows to fight the Red-coats to the American farmers of today who are told by the government how much corn, wheat and potatoes they can raise and how much land they can use for this or that crop.

In those days if a farmer raised more than five bushels of potatoes, he was considered a contributor to the food supply of the nation. Today if he raises and sells more than five bushels of potatoes, he must pay a tax of 45 cents a bushel or be considered a bootlegger.

The farmers who rushed to the Concord bridge to potshoot the British soldiers were fighting a stamp tax, a tax on tea and other British levies they considered an infringement of their rights. Today the farmer receives direct benefits from processing taxes levied on the necessities of life and helps pay the bill in higher living costs.

The farmers who shouldered their muskets and went with Washington to Valley Forge and helped chase the English out of the land they wanted to be free, were concerned about cultivating more acres. As fast as they could clear an acre of forest, they planted more crops, and a hungry nation took their products eagerly. Modern farmers are taught to plow under their crops and leave their acres idle, while a still hungry nation, with a population thirty times as great as it was then, clamors for more food.

The Concord farmers had no visions of agricultural adjustment, else they would hardly have wasted their time in liberating the country from the British, only to have it fall under bureaucratic regulation.

Losing No Time

Cities where daylight saving has been the rule the past summer went back to standard time this morning. But the hour lost by turning back the clocks was regained by railroads and air lines in reducing time schedules and putting on more speed. The Twentieth Century and Broadway Limiteds running from Chicago to New York are reducing the time by thirty minutes to sixteen and a half hours. The running time between Chicago and Minneapolis for crack trains is being cut 35 minutes.

New ships are being placed on the airways, all of them up to the minute and having a speed of 190 miles an hour. Transportation is thus losing no time by the change, and the traveling public is getting a better break. But no doubt those who have been rising early will be glad to see old time return, as it will mean a longer beauty sleep. The golfers complain that twilight finds them at the twelfth hole, but it will not be long before they will want to put away their clubs, anyhow. If they can't keep away from the links, they will have good excuses for taking afternoon off.

Another Hurricane

The Florida coast is covering in the path of another hurricane. Already 400 lives have been sacrificed to the wind monster during the present season, and now another storm is tearing at the cities and towns in the land of normally pleasant weather and sunshine.

So grueling have been the experiences of those who have gone thru these hurricanes the past few years that people in other sections of the country are rather glad to live in their own swicks, with all their shortcomings.

Even the California earthquakes may be acceptable to one who has spent a few hours in a Florida 60-mile gale. Earthquakes may be destructive, but they don't last so long or come as often as hurricanes. When one of these storms strikes all the people can do is seek the best shelter they can and wait whatever fate may be in store for them.

Jacksonville has had a cyclone, a sleet storm, a flood and some minor upheavals, but there was nobody killed. Maybe it does get cold here, but when that happens we get the honor of being the coldest spot in the country, and still don't freeze to death. When we have a cyclone, it may tear up the town, but there are always enough people left to clean up the place.

One of the worst features of a hurricane, is that you know it is coming several hours before it strikes. There is an agony of anticipation that wears you out before the storm arrives, and then there's the storm itself. And after that you may be alive or you may not, and if you are, you still have to clean up the wreckage.

Short Comment

Senator Pope says we should lend our moral influence against war. That's one thing we could lend to Europe and not miss if we didn't get it back.

A storm hit Jamaica and tore down 2,000,000 banana trees. That's one time trouble came in bunches.

Italy is willing to wait two weeks and see what happens. Ethiopia might spend the time praying for more rain.

Joe Louis does not believe in a "Baerish" market.

We will build a big navy if others do likewise, but we will probably wait till they are well along with the program before we start.

When all the projects Uncle Sam says we can have are finished, Jacksonville will be a city of much pure water and abundant light.

First Heavy Frost Here Friday Night, But Without Damage

Light Frost Came Earlier Last Year; Mercury to Low of 33 Degrees

The first heavy frost of the season occurred here Friday night, Dr. F. P. Norbury, weather observer, said yesterday. The temperature was down to 33 degrees, and in the early morning the frost showed plainly, but disappeared as soon as the sun arose.

It was not a killing frost and no damage from it is anticipated. But it was a heavy frost and arrived rather early in the season. In 1934 the first light frost occurred Sept. 17, with heavier frosts on Oct. 7 and 15, but the first killing frost did not occur until Oct. 28.

In 1933 the first light frost did not come until Oct. 6, and killing frosts held off until Nov. 8. If killing frosts are delayed for another month this year the corn will have a chance to mature. But the early arrival of a heavy frost lessens the probability of such good fortune in weather.

However, some forecasters predict much warmer weather during the autumn, and if this happens, the killing frosts may be held off long enough to permit a normal corn crop, in spite of the lateness of the season.

Cardinals Capture Eleven Inning Battle From Chicago Cubs 7-5

Cubs' Pitching Staff Will Match Detroit's

Appear to Be Better Balanced Than Tigers; Room for Debate, However

This is the second of a series of stories analyzing the world series contenders and their prospects.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York—(P)—The Chicago Cubs, having chased the gas house gang back across the tracks, now can turn their undivided attention to the forthcoming world series battle with the Detroit Tigers.

Charley Grimm's Bruins have every reason to be confident, even though they start the series on the enemy's ground next Wednesday and will bump into the toughest American League outfit since Ruth, Gehrig & Company were "tops" in baseball. The Cubs won the pennant the hard way. They whipped the Dean brothers in their own backyard and ended the championship reign of the gas house gang with one of the greatest winning streaks on record.

Throughout their 21-game march from third place to the National League pennant, the Cubs got superb pitching. Only three starters have been relieved. Their staff of front-line fingers not only looks to be "hot" but better balanced than the Detroit sharpshooters corps. This may be offset by a more ferocious Tiger attack, but the Cub quartet composed of Lonnie Warneke, Larry French, Big Bill Lee and Charley Root should be a great match for Schoolboy Rowe, Elden Auker, Tommy Bridges and Alvin (General) Crowder, the Tiger "Big Four."

All the starting assignments likely will go to these fingers. The strong probability is that Manager Mickey Coghane, as he did last year, will gamble with his veteran right-hander, Crowder, as an opening game opponent for Warneke, who is certain to be the No. 1 man for Chicago. This would defer until later in the series at least, a duel between the right-

Cleveland, Sept. 28. — (P) — The Cleveland Indians took both ends of a double-header with the St. Louis Browns today, 3 to 0 in the first game and 7 to 3 in the final, clinching third place.

Hal Trosky hit his 26th homer of the season in the third inning of the second game.

handed rivals from Arkansas, Warneke from Mt. Ida in the Ozarks and Rowe from El Dorado.

The rival pitching equipment offers good grounds for heated debate. The Cubs have better southpaw resources, with the seasoned French for starting jobs and the brilliant little Roy Henshaw in reserve. They have a sensational Sophomore right-hander in Lee, a fugitive from the Cardinal chain-gang, to match the Tiger second-year star, Auker, whose submarine ball may baffle the Bruins.

The come-back of Crowder for the Tigers is rivalled by that of Root, enjoying his finest year for the Cubs since 1929.

For the Tigers much depends on whether Root is "right." The tall right-hander has had an erratic year. He has been either "hot" or "cold." Warneke, too, suffered lapses but he has been at his peak during the Cub drive, capping the climax with a two-hit shutout of the Cardinals this week. For comparative purposes it is worth noting that Warneke has won his last seven successive starts, whereas Rowe has split even in his last six games.

Bridges, at his best under fire, may get the call over Rowe in Coghane's scheme of pitcher rotation. Tennessee Tommy stung the Cardinals on their ears last year at St. Louis. When he has control he is tough to touch. Southpaw Elton Hogssett, Vic Sorrell, veteran right-hander, Joe Sullivan, rookie portlander, and Rube Lawson, righthanded sensation who came up late this season, round out the Tiger staff. Hogssett is the "fireman."

James (Tex) Carleton, former Cardinal, and Henshaw are likely to be Grimm's choices for relief duty. Fabian Kowalik, who came up from Buffalo, also is on the bullpen list.

Springfield Teams To Return Tonight

Boistered by the addition of Mark Peterman, Springfield high athletic director to their line-up, the Walker Cafes tonight hope to mark up a victory over the Famous Men's team of Springfield in a return engagement to be played under the Nichols Park lights as part of a double header. Peterman will pitch for the local team against the Famous Men's team in the night cap. "Chuck" Traeger will be back in the box for the Springfield team.

The Wright Lumber company girls, who registered a victory over the Famous Girls team of Springfield last Sunday, will attempt to repeat their performance in the opener. The games are slated to get underway at 7:30, with the girls playing first, to be followed by the men.

Rout To Take On Quincy Acads

Baptist Expects Tough Go With Academy Team; Veterans Named

If Rout high expects what Coach Wally Baptist expects to find today, they will have plenty of football work on their hands to win their second start of the season against Quincy Academy this afternoon. The Rockets, after turning back Trinity last Sunday in the opener, will tangle with the Acads this afternoon at three o'clock.

Quincy thus far has played only one game, winning from Warsaw high. In that game, Coach Baptist reported, they were on last year's team. The 47-0 score Rout marked up here last year will have no bearing on this year's score, he pointed out, and at the same time expressed a wholesome regard for Mart Heinn's ability to groom a good team.

Baptist has named a squad of 24 players to make the trip to Quincy, anticipating plenty of trouble. He expects to use his regular line-up, consisting of Pike and Gregory Gaitsens at ends, Beerup and Fritscher at tackles, R. Loneragan and Roth, at guards, Doherty, center, Buoy, McGinnis, DeWitt and Lawrence in the backfield. Reserves will be Balkan, Tanscott, ends, Weidlocher and Cox, backs, Maloney and B. Gaitsens, guards, O'Brien, center, Tobin, Johnson, DeVoss, Lair, Gung and Kindred, backs.

The team itself is in good condition, weathering the week's hard drills in fine shape. The coach has been trying to polish up the offense so that it will work to all sides, and at the same time strengthen the defense to stop line smashing and forward passing. The boys have spent several hours in skill drills as well as actual fundamental and team practice, in order to prepare them for anything they meet in the way of a wide open game.

Rebekahs Pay Honor To Schuyler Colfax

Give Program in Memory of Lodge Founder at Jerseyville Hall

Jerseyville—The members of the Ruby Rebekah Lodge of Jerseyville presented a program in honor of Schuyler Colfax, founder of the Rebekah Odd Fellowship in their hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Thomas S. Ford read a paper on the "Life of Colfax" and a playlet was presented in keeping with this theme. The cast included Mrs. H. J. Gubser, Miss Irene Barnes, Miss Edith Catt, Misses Kathryn and Elizabeth Bloomer, Miss Josephine Tuetkin, Miss Erma Worthey, Miss Roberta Shaw, Miss Virginia Woodruff and Miss Alyda Zeller.

After the program the guests enjoyed a social hour. Favors for the various games were won by Miss Mary McClure and Mrs. F. W. Roerig. The committee in charge of the evening consisted of Miss Erma Worthey, Mrs. T. S. Ford, Miss Elizabeth Bloomer and Miss Alyda Zeller.

Visits Great Grandson. Mrs. Gussie Howell and daughter, Mrs. Minnie Hesley, motored to St. Louis Wednesday where the former visited her great grandson, Sydney Hormell, infant son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Lewis Hormell of this city, who was born Sunday, Sept. 22nd at the St. Louis Maternity hospital.

Mrs. Hormell, mother of the baby, was the first grandchild of Mrs. Howell, and little Sydney Hormell is her first great grandchild.

Discuss Garden Project. The club members discussed further in the plans for the garden project in this vicinity and voted to support the minstrel committee in presenting a show. This committee is composed of Frank Seago, Ralph Egelhoff and Carl Thatcher.

Guests of the club Wednesday were C. W. Bishop, representative of the Lions International, Mr. Sheets of Carrollton, and Rev. W. A. Steinkraus of Jerseyville, who is a personal friend of Dr. Thompson. Mr. Sheets is active in the organization of a Lions club in Carrollton.

Three more Illinois Valley conference football battles, one of them bringing together two undefeated teams, will be the feature of the week in the league this week. All of the teams will be in action, meeting either conference or non-conference opposition.

Another feature of the week will be the opening of the drive of the Roodhouse Railroaders to regain the championship it lost to Carrollton last year. The Railroaders will go to Pleasant Hill for the opening ceremonies.

Greenfield, out in front in the conference race as the result of its victories over Pleasant Hill and Jerseyville, will take on Jacksonville high under its lights Friday night in another combat that promises to attract a large crowd. The Crimson defeated Greenfield last year, but Greenfield has back almost all of the team that went through a disastrous season last year, and has yet to suffer a set-back this season.

One of the leaders will be dropped lower in the percentage table after the Winchester-Carrollton battle on the Scott county grid Friday afternoon and even the dopsters are a bit backward about naming a winner in advance. Winchester's smart performing youngsters, with a well developed aerial game, will give the defending champions an interesting afternoon.

Vaughan and Vosmik Have Taken Titles

Buddy Meyer Has Chance to Pass Vosmik But Arky Has Long Lead

New York—(P)—Despite the possible results of the last two days of play, there seems to be no danger at all in awarding the major league batting titles to Floyd (Arky) Vaughan of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Joe Vosmik of the Cleveland Indians before the final results are in.

Vaughan was as safe as the proverbial church at the top of the National League when the unofficial records up through Friday showed a .388 average for him and .350 for his nearest rival, Joe Medwick of St. Louis. There was a chance that Buddy Meyer of Washington, trailing Vosmik's .351 by six points, could capture the American League lead but it was a slim one.

The third place men in both leagues, Gabby Hartnett of Chicago at .344 and Jimmie Fox of the Athletics at .338 were too far back to be considered.

NEBRASKA WINS

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 28.—(P)—Thirty thousand people saw Nebraska trim the University of Chicago 28 to 7 this afternoon in the opening 1935 football tussle for both teams. Lloyd Cardwell, Nebraska's flash, tallied three of the Husker's touchdowns, one on an 88 yard return of a kickoff.

Iowa City, Sept. 28.—(P)—Showing a smashing running attack which featured the sophomores, Bushnell Lamb and Dick Bowlin the University of Iowa opened its football season here today with a 26 to 0 victory over a light Bradley Tech team of Peoria, Ill.

RIPON BEATS MILLIKIN

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 28.—(P)—Ripon college of Ripon, Wis., opened its season with a 6 to 0 victory over James Millikin here this afternoon. The lone touchdown coming as the result of Fallon's 90-yard dash after intercepting Allan's pass midway in the third period.

It was also Millikin's opening game and the first time it has lost to Ripon in four years. Millikin, co-champions of the "Little Nineteen" conference in 1934, did not have a scoring punch after repeatedly marching into Ripon's territory.

Millikin chalked up ten first downs, Ripon five.

Bruins 21-Game Streak is Broken When Joe Medwick Slams Out Two Home Runs

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—(P)—Too late to make any difference, except break the Chicago Cubs' winning streak at 21 straight games, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the new National League champions, 7 to 5, in eleven innings today.

Jack Rothrock singled to open the eleventh and Joe Medwick followed with his second home run of the game for the Red Birds' winning margin. Rothrock was also on base when Joe Hack hit his first four-bagger in the sixth.

The two players each got four hits to lead the 13-hit attack against Larry Kowalik, pitcher, and Alvin Crowder, catcher. Jim Winford started for the Cards but Jesse Haines and Bill Walker also saw service before the game was over.

Rothrock singled in the fourth and Medwick promptly tripled him across. Then scored on Jim Collins' long out-of-field fly. Virgil Davis and Leo Durocher singled, Davis scoring when Catcher Hank O'Dea threw wild on an attempted double steal.

Chuck Klein's homer with Augie Galan, who had tripled, on base gave the Cubs two runs in the fifth. Three behind, they tied the score in the ninth, driving Winford from the mound. Klein and O'Dea singled, Joe Haines p.

Manuel Day, Second Oldest Portuguese Immigrant, Expires

Came to Morgan County in 1851; Leaves Five Sons, Other Relatives

Manuel Day, 91 years old, the next to last member of the band of over 100 Portuguese who came to this city in 1851, passed away at his home, one and a half miles east of the city, at 5 o'clock Saturday morning after an illness of seven months. Only one other member of the band that crossed the Atlantic ocean from the Island of Madeira, Emmanuel Vasconcellos, at that time is still alive.

Manuel Day was born on the Portuguese-owned island on August 20, 1844, and migrated to this country when 7 years of age. His parents were the late Domingos and Mary Day.

Deceased was married to Mary A. Hendricks on November 28, 1878, and to this union six sons were born. The wife and one son preceded the father in death. Surviving are Charles O. Day of South Bend, Ind., Dr. J. U. Day, Frank E. Day, Richard E. Day, and Fred Day, all of this city. Twenty-five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Day spent his life as a farmer and stock raiser in this community. He was always active in the affairs of the Northminster church, and served as an elder.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the family home east of the city at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Harry Lohman will have charge. Burial will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

House of Morgan Has Hand in Every Major New Deal Battle . . . Probes Promise War Activities Sensations . . . John W. Davis, Ace of Legal Staff, Leads Fight on Utility Bill.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Not many years ago a Morgan partner slumbered frequently at the White House. The name of the great banking firm at Broad and Wall has always been a familiar one in these parts.

Never before, however, has the House of Morgan been the subject of so many backstage whispers in an administration or involved—and annoyed—in so many fields of federal action.

"The New Deal versus Morgan" would be a plausible title, especially to those Democrats and progressives who see the firm, with its fingers in hundreds of corporations and utilities, as a bulwark of reactionary capitalism opposed to liberal reform. Anyway, no end of people here are "talking Morgan."

One returned here to find a general craning of necks toward that "security graveyard" in New York where the Morgans were to auction off collateral carrying control of the $200,000,000 Van Sweringen railroad empire, following default on a $48,000,000 loan.

The collateral, consisting of control stock in a bankrupt company, presumably would be worthless to the buyers unless they could get the RFC and ICC to agree to a reorganization plan for the Missouri Pacific which would leave them in control.

There has been plenty of suppressed excitement over whether the Van Sweringens would have the seemingly essential support of Jesse Jones in their effort to retain control and whether the Vans would still be in luck to Morgan with the $48,000,000 loan largely unpaid.

Dig for Sensations
Senate munitions committee investigators are still deep in the Morgan pre-war and wartime records and act as if they would have something sensational to tell in a few weeks.

You'll be surprised to learn the extent to which personal fortunes of Morgan partners were pledged for the Allies and how important it was for them to have the Allies win, though you won't learn that this led to the egg Washington into the conflict.

Possibly there'll be some heretofore secret history of unfriendly post-war relations between Secretary McAdoo and Morgan which will seem especially interesting when you recall that McAdoo lost the Democratic nomination in 1924 to a Morgan lawyer—a dark horse named John W. Davis.

Relations between the Morgans and the Van Sweringens and certain government officials are being uncovered by the committee under Senator Wheeler, now investigating railroad financing, which means more sensations coming up.

partners and fronted by a son of J. P. Morgan himself—to carry on a security investment business (from which the Morgan company itself is barred as long as it engages in banking) caused sardonic comment here. Especially among such optimistic New Dealers as had thought, after Morgan lobbyists were defeated recently in their attempt to change the law, they had ended the evils of combined commercial banking and investment banking.

It is recalled that the law prohibiting railroad mergers and consolidations without ICC approval was not easily evaded when Wall Street lawyers told the Vans—with Morgan floating their securities and acting as their bankers—how to buy up control of railroads by purchasing stock through holding companies.

Davis Goes Into Action
Now comes John W. Davis, tops among the expensive Morgan lawyers, to challenge constitutionality of the public utilities act in the Baltimore federal court.

It may or may not be important to remember at this point that the heaviest lobbying in the last days of the holding company bill fight was done on behalf of two Morgan companies, United Gas Improvement and Commonwealth and Southern, in the hope that the new law could be made inapplicable to them—which it wasn't.

But Mr. Davis isn't appearing officially for Morgan, U. G. I., Commonwealth and Southern, or even the Edison Electric Institute, which recently hired him.

He represents Mr. Lautenbach, a $2500 creditor of the bankrupt American States Public Service Co., a holding company, and comes in to agree with counsel for trustees who say the law would interfere with reorganization, is unconstitutional, and should be thrown out.

The Morgans are interested in so many things that you'll probably never hear the last of them. They're fairly sure to appear, for instance, in the investigation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. by the Federal Communications Commission, and that of the food industries by the Federal Trade Commission.

STATE CONTEST IN CORN AND POULTRY JUDGING ON OCT. 5

Urbana, Ill.—One hundred of the best judges from among the 5,000 Illinois farm boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H corn and poultry projects to settle the year's state championship judging honors in these two lines of work in a contest to be held at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, October 5. It is announced by E. I. Pilchard, boys' club specialist.

Last year 34 poultry judges and 39 corn judges competed for state honors, but registration this year is expected to be larger. There were 18 poultry judging teams from 14 counties entered in 1934 and 13 corn judging teams from 10 counties. It was the first year for the state corn judging contest.

This year the poultry judges will be required to place eight classes of four specimens each, Pilchard said. Four classes are to be judged by the American standard of perfection rules and the other four according to egg production qualities. Breeds which may be used will include Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, White Wyandottes and White Leghorns.

The corn judges will be required to place three classes of corn consisting of four 10-ear samples each. The classes will include two samples of utility type yellow corn and one sample of utility type white corn.

Awards in both the poultry and corn divisions will consist of a plaque to be kept by the high team until the 1936 contest, medals to high team members and ribbons down to tenth place in each division.

The Platt county corn judging team, winner in the 1934 contest, is expected to be back to defend its laurels this year. The 1934 championship poultry judging team from Fulton county is also expected to enter this year. Glenn Morris, of LaSalle county, was high individual in the corn division last year, while John Ewan, of Fulton county, was high in poultry judging.

Local leaders and club judges attending the contest will be guests of the University of Illinois Athletic Association at the Illinois-Washington football game.

Bowen Says He Has Facts About Escape

Claims Fernekes Allowed to Walk Out of Gate

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, today asserted the method of escape of Henry "Midget" Fernekes, wanted for murder and bank robbery, from the old prison at Joliet, August 3, "was definitely and indisputably determined by the investigations which I conducted the day following the escape."

His statement was a reply to a demand of Senator John W. Fribley of Pana on behalf of Robert Shaw, a guard who was discharged following the escape, that the attorney general's office or Department of Public Welfare show conclusively that Fernekes was permitted to walk out a gate which Shaw was guarding.

Shaw at a civil service hearing this week denied he let Fernekes out. Insisting the "small man" thought to be Fernekes had also entered the prison through his gate, Frank Friend, another discharged guard, also stated at the hearing that he did not believe Fernekes walked past an inner gate he was guarding.

British Speed Plans For Construction of New Naval Vessels

To Spend Fifty Millions on Program This Year: Keeps Within Treaty Limit

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) London—Great Britain, speeding up plans for emergency naval construction to bring her fleet to safety limits, began calling today for bids on 21 ships embraced by her 1935 naval building program.

At the same time it was learned Great Britain has approached the French government in Paris to ascertain in what manner France would assist in carrying through her obligations under the league covenant in the event a clash developed in the Mediterranean Sea.

The bulk of the British fleet now is assembled in that sea in preparedness for an eventuality that may spring from the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Ten million pounds sterling ($50,000,000) will be required for the 1935 construction program, it was estimated.

This program falls within the limitations of the Washington naval treaty and is designed to replace over-aged ships.

The new ships will include 3 cruisers, 9 destroyers, 3 submarines, one submarine depot ship, 4 sloops, one survey ship, and several smaller vessels.

Work on this program was expected to be spread over about three years. Some of the fighting vessels will be built by the Royal Dockyards, and the construction probably will be in full swing by next spring.

No immediate answer was expected to the British inquiry to France, inasmuch as it likely will be considered by the French cabinet when the ministers take up the question of possible sanctions against Italy in case of an Italo-Ethiopian war.

Illinois Old Age Law Too Stringent

Special Session of Legislature Planned to Make Change

Washington—(P)—The old age pension act is regarded by Wilbur J. Cohen, attorney for the Social Security Board, as too stringent in its requirements.

Governor Horner plans a special session of the legislature to amend the Illinois act.

Discussing the act today, Cohen pointed out that it is more stringent in its resident requirement than the federal law. The Illinois act provides that none can qualify for the benefits unless he has resided in the state for "at least ten years within the 15 years immediately preceding his application."

If the federal government is to pay 50 per cent of the old age pensions in Illinois, the attorney said, the state will be required to lower this requirement. The federal act requires residence within the state for but five of the preceding nine years.

To qualify for federal funds the general assembly will have to cut its state residence in half. It may, if it desires, make the minimum less than the federal five year period but federal monies will not be paid if it is more.

THE BLUE DOOR
By Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, 19-year-old girl in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Worthville.

The door and the housekeeper, ELAINE GIBBS, also known as PENEY, mistakes Ruth for a girl who has been in the house before. She is a grandchild of the house, and she is a young man next door, and stays on, posing as Elaine.

Elaine Chalmers, at Grayson College, was in a sorority meeting to win the love of her childhood hero, John McNeill. John, however, who has been unjustly held in an insane asylum and has escaped, Ruth persuades him to leave his asylum and come to her.

As Ruth is leaving the house for good next day, Elaine Chalmers arrives. She is a young girl who drives her away. Ruth, who is a young man next door, and stays on, posing as Elaine.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXVIII
FLORENCE MCNEILL BURN'S husband and twin daughters were going to live. The miraculous was to happen, after all. Broken bones had been set and wounds sewed. X-ray machines showed no internal injuries.

All were in the hospital. Mrs. McNeill and her daughter remained there through the uncertain hours of Tuesday, while John stayed at the Burr home to attend to the telephone calls that poured in.

By Tuesday evening the real strain was over. With patience and careful nursing, the doctors agreed, all three would pull through nicely. It was then that John felt free to go home to Worthville.

He said, "Florence doesn't need me any longer, Mother. You'll stay, of course. I think I'll catch a night train out."

He was needed at the factory, but that was not his first concern. He wanted desperately to see Ruth. That thought drove him to send a telegram immediately:

"FAMILY BETTER LEAVING HERE TONIGHT MUST SEE YOU WEDNESDAY MORNING DEVOTEDLY JOHN"

It was then that he realized he did not know her name. . . . There was only one thing to do about that, and he did it. He sent the message to Miss Elaine Chalmers at the Silas Hunter address on Gardfield avenue.

AFTER the tight-lipped girl in the wrinkled blue suit had gone through the door Elaine Chalmers stooped and picked up the $20 bill which lay rejected on the floor. She put it back into her purse mechanically. Then she went upstairs to the room which had been hers as a child.

The room itself did not interest her, except as it concerned the girl who had just been in it. Elaine saw that the bed was freshly made with clean linen, that the rumpled bedding was lying in a neat little stack in the hall.

Elaine Chalmers thought, "She must have gotten up early to do all this." Her heart smote her, she did not know why.

In all that orderly room there the Mu Beta club Monday evening at a dessert bridge. Five tables of cards were at play. Miss Rose Knust holding high score, and the floating prize went to Mrs. Harold Zude. Guests at the party were Mrs. Leo Stapleton, Mrs. Walter Roesch and Miss Elizabeth Brehm.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luken on returning home Sunday evening were pleasantly surprised to find a house filled with company to celebrate Mrs. Luken's birthday anniversary. The guests took baskets of food and enjoyed a fine lunch.

Those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Horn and daughter, Anna; J. F. Horn and family, Otto Luken and family, Henry Kloppe and family, William Konwick and family of Em-den, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. George Bergschneider, Mrs. Mary Jarvis, Casper Luken and family, Fred Kloppe and family.

Mrs. Bridges, who has been in failing health for some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Roesch, suffered a severe heart attack this week. Her condition now is slightly improved.

HOME IDEALS DISCUSSED AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Margaret Wells Wood Addresses County Group Here

"Never was there greater need than the present for the home ideals, where there is capacity to meet new situations, where the good in the past meets all that is new, with the aid of a spiritual and mental development," was the theme of the splendid address, presented by Mrs. Margaret Wells Wood, of the American Social Hygiene association, Saturday afternoon before the members of the Morgan county Federated clubs, at the American Legion Home. Mrs. Wood held the closest attention of the large audience of over two hundred women. A large group of girls of high school age were guests at the meeting.

The president, Mrs. Roy Davenport, presided at the speaker's table, where was seated the speaker of the afternoon, officers and guests. Members were seated at tables in the large audience room. Lovely bouquets were attractively arranged as center pieces and in baskets throughout the room.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Davenport expressed her appreciation of the cooperation of the clubs, welcomed the new members and called upon Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, to speak of the great need for support of the Oak Lawn Sanatorium. Mrs. Capps very concisely noted the great benefits derived from the Sanatorium and stated that this is the close of the five year period authorized by the voters at the election in 1930 and the question of continuance of the tax for a tuberculosis sanatorium fund will come up this fall. She urged their continued support.

Mrs. Davenport presented Miss Florence Buchanan, county health nurse, who introduced Mrs. Margaret Wood, of New York, as one whom the audience might well be pleased to welcome, sponsored by the Illinois Health department.

"Being a Woman" In her address upon "Being a Woman," Mrs. Wood brought home to all present the urgent need for a greater practical knowledge of present day problems. Intervenor in her lecture were many gems of scientific value, relative to the importance of the home and all social influence. In molding the physical and spiritual life of youth.

"Life continues beyond the border," said Mrs. Wood, "life is a living process which continues after the spiritual leaves the body. We are old if a new idea hurls us. Therefore build a fine community for those coming on."

"Some women know full well that to be a girl today is not the same as being a girl yesterday. It is good for the modern girl to know the experiences of girls of yesterday."

The speaker described her daily experience as a young girl in a family of six with responsibilities of preparing food and clothing. From which she inherited her ideals of wholesomeness and the desire for the finest in music books and spiritual life, without the frills.

Mrs. Wood said, "This depicted true wealth to me, a glorious peace, securing fitness and happiness with respect for life's highest calling. Controlled emotions, a desire to work, were fostered and to accept this was to receive a glorious satisfaction."

"At present the life is a great advance in physical knowledge as well as intellectual development. This training now available should be put to use in a higher physical and spiritual culture. Women should be trained to become home makers not just home keepers. They should raise the spiritual side of home life and instill the belief in the finest in the home and community life."

Mrs. Wood closed her address with the quotation from Henry Drummond, "Home Ideals Shape World Ideals."

"To make Home—that is what we are here for."

"For the Home is strategic, it makes the town—the town makes the city—the city makes the country. He who makes the Home makes the world."

"After all, though men and women make the Home, it is the Home which makes men and women. Whether our national life is great or mean, whether our social virtues are mature or stunted. Whether our sons and daughters moral or vicious whether religion is possible or impossible depends upon the Home."

Committee chairmen were: General chairman, Mrs. C. A. Newton, Concord; Mrs. W. A. Kinnett, Orleans; Mrs. Liora Macell, Jacksonville; Mrs. Ellen O. Coultas, Chapin; Mrs. C. Anderson, Waverly; Mrs. Henry Strawn, Jacksonville; Mrs. G. B. Andre, Jacksonville; Mrs. Laurence Seymour, Franklin.

MAKE PLANS TO HOLD DISTRICT P. T. A. MEETING

Association Conference To Be Held In Jacksonville October 10

Committees from the five Parent-Teacher associations in Jacksonville are co-operating with Mrs. A. L. Davis, district director, in plans to make the annual conference to be held in Jacksonville, October 10th, the largest ever held in District Thirteen, which is composed of Calhoun, Cass, Green, Jersey, Morgan and Scott counties.

Two types of invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Davis—one to Parent-Teacher associations already affiliated with the National Congress, and the other to those local associations not so affiliated, in the hope that delegations will be sent to become better acquainted with the broader scope of Parent-Teacher work, and the benefit to be derived from the larger organization.

Both morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Jefferson school, with luncheon at noon at the Congregational church. The president of the Jefferson P. T. A., Mrs. Coraor, has appointed committees to arrange for decorating the auditorium, ushering, and other details for the comfort and convenience of guests and delegates.

Mrs. Ellsworth Black is chairman of the hospitality committee which is to provide lodging for the seven state chairmen for the night preceding the conference. It is only by providing this hospitality that District Thirteen can have the unusual privilege of hearing so many state officers on one program.

Mrs. Eleanor Andre Arnold has been secured by Mrs. E. D. Ganatsey, the music chairman, as leader of the group singing at both sessions.

A new project of the district conference which promises to add value and interest is an exhibit of posters and other material used by the various associations in promoting attendance, membership, health, home-making, and the many other fields in which Parent-Teacher associations are interested.
